

The South Dakota Planner’s Association (SDPA) exists to promote planning and provide a forum for discussion of issues among professional planners, planning commissioners, elected officials, and all South Dakotans. SDPA is affiliated with the Western Central Chapter of the American Planning Association and Western Planner Resources, publishers of The Western Planner magazine.

Membership in SDPA provides the following benefits:

- Annual conference held usually each October – two days of learning and networking
- Online access to The Western Planner Magazine
- Access to other members to solve current planning issues (via e-mail and sdplanners.org website)
- Participation in business and committee meetings

Dues are assigned to individuals and are paid annually.

Please send in your membership dues for 2021 as soon as possible so that you can experience all the benefits that being a member can offer and begin reading the WP News Articles, which will be delivered directly to your email. One form per member!
